Thousands Remain in Prison Camps After Refusal To Join Reactionaries.

By GEN. VERRAUX, Noted French Military Chief. Paris, March 28 .- Thousands of Russians are languishing in prison camps in France and Algiers. The only crime committed by these men was to have been sent to France at the time of the Franco-Russian alliance, and to have refused, after the revolution to return to Russia to join the reactionary armies of Denikine or Yudenitch.

The soldiers who would not take arms against their own people have been brutally classed as insubordinates and submitted to the worst reatment. They were not Bo shevists when they arrived in France. But if we keep them much o find them fighting against us. Incidentally, I wish to point to the results of the German negotiations in regard to the repatriation of Russian prisoners in Germany work done by Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Conton, Lucretia Mott and Lucy Stone.

"As a member of the board of electors of the Hall of Fame, organized by the New York Univer-sity," said Mrs. Starrett, "I am ex-

At present for-ty-seven men and only seven womn have been accorded places in the Hall of Fame. It is up to the women of the country to nominate leaders like Susan B. Anthony for this great honor."

RAPS DRY LAW FAVORS REPEAL

Prohibition Foe in Rep Says Public Tired of Enforcement.

SAYS CITIES ARE "WET" Claim Made It Is Easy to > Get Drinks in Some Localities.

A survey of the country, just completed by J. A. Seavey, managing director, in behalf of the Association Opposed to National Prohibition, has caused him to reach the conclusion that the people generally do not want either constitutional prohibition or the return of the saloon, but the right to "buy and consume what they wish under restriction of such laws as they themselves have approved." The survey, Mr. Seavey said, brought out the following facts: "Constitutional prohibition has been enforced most rigidly where the prohibition enforcement organization believed it could be most easily enforced and where it was believed that there was a sentiment for rigid enforcement. Naturally. therefore, we have found the most rigid enforcement in States which have been dry or approximately dry for several years.

Says Cities Defy Law. It has been notorious that the people of the ro-called dry States have been able by hook or by crock to obtain what they wanted to drink at any hour of the day or night. They pushed the button and the bootlegger did the rest. They know now what constitutional prohibition means and they don't like it.

"There has been no attempt rigid enforcement in most of the larger cities because the sentiment in these centers is overwhelmingly opposed to constitutional prohibition. If one knows how or where and has the price, he has little duficulty in obtaining his favorite tipple in New York, Chicago, Boston, New Orleans, San Francisto, Philadelphia and other large cities. Denies Crime Decrease.

"The prohibitionists have endeavored to show that crime has materially decreased since the Eighteenth amendment became operative. That is not true, but it is also untrue able the statistician to form any safe conclusion as to the effect of constitutional prohibition on the morals of the country,
"The figures do show a pronounced falling off in that class of cases familiarly known in the derlies. On the other hand, crimes of the magnitude of felonies have greatly increased. But the successful and prosperous safe-breaker and second-story man doesn't usually get drunk before he begins work.

Predicts Tobacco Crusade. "The breeders of unrest, class hatred and labor disturbances have suddenly become ardent prohibitionists and active supporters of the an-Pioneer for Feminine Rights ti-Saloon League, because they have found that they may use to very great advaantage the Eighteenth amendment as one more evidence of the endeavor of the ruling class to deprive the laborer of yet another of the prerogatives of freemen.' Mr. Seavey also expressed the belief that if producers and friends of tobacco do not do something to check the activities of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union against tobacco, prohibition of the weed will be effective by 1924.

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a make-shift—a false upon against a collapsing wall can't. At less, the truss is only a mage-shift—a false prop against a collapsing wall— and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support, The bind-ing pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which
